Discrimination

Discrimination based on nationality, race and gender has been a genuine problem nowadays. Primarily, being from a different race can cause difficult situations in every walk of life. If someone has darker skin tone and distinct facial feature, they are bullied by people and given less opportunities in terms of work and other social activity. Their relation with a certain race also can cause problems for them. Secondly, people from different nationality are subjected to bad behavior, slurs and given fewer facilities. They are discriminated for having different national origin and cultural background. They are even discriminated for ethnicity of accent. Lastly, people's gender is also an issue in this matter. In case of gender discrimination, men are paid better than women. And also, women are not given pregnancy leave and other facilities all the time. Women are not considered having the same capabilities as men. Therefore, they are discriminated. Human discriminate each other for many things but because of the things stated above like different origin, race and gender are some main reasons for discrimination.
