

COPA AMERICA 2021

ARGENTINA VS URUGUAY

Copa America is a football tournament held in South America with the participation of the South American countries. In today's journal, I am not talking about the whole tournament but my experience of the Uruguay VS Argentina match which was in June 19, 2021 at 6:00 a.m. As it was scheduled at 6 a.m, I didn't sleep at night knowing that i won't be able to wake up that early. Rather, I decided to sleep after the match because i had no class that day. I spent the night doing buX classes, talking with friends about the match and scrolling Facebook fot match updates. Ten minutes before the match, I got some food and started watching the preview. I was both worried and excited as it was an important match for Argentina to qualify in the next round. The Argentine squad is mediocre this year, so everyone's including mine hope was on Lionel Messi. Messi was delivering accordingly and at the 13th min a goal came from his assist. It gave me much hope but the threat still remained. Uruguay created attacks but couldn't put the ball in the net. The rest of the match comprised of counter attacks from Uruguay, some incredible solo runs from Messi and missed goal chances for both teams. But there was no other goal and Argentina won 1-0. This gave me much joy and I had a very peaceful sleep.
